General Election 2005

Issued 9 April 2005

I'm happy to report that the ballot count is now complete from the 2005 General Election. The ballots were counted over a three day period. All results were verified by at least one recount of the ballots.

Scrutineers at the counting were able to see the results but it would be inappropriate to release the numbers as unofficial results until some administrative tasks are finished. These include the following:

- verifying the nomination and eligibility of candidates
- verifying election expenses
- verifying there are no outstanding campaign issues.

The verification process is going very well. However, as part of the process, TJ Balback or I may need to contact candidates for more information. Your cooperation, as always, is appreciated.

I will release more information as it is available and appropriate. Thank you for your patience.
